EXPRESSED REGRET.

SPECIAL MEETING YESTERDAY

Eminent Services to the Port During His Stay in Wilmington—Something of the River and Harbor Work Now Accomplished.

These was a large attendance yesterday at noon upon the special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, called to give expression to the regret of the business community at the contemplated departure of Capt. E. W VanCourt Lucas, in charge of the United States Corps of Engineers at Wilmington. The meeting was an unusually representation one, among those present having been President James H. Chadbourn, Frst Vice President, H. W. Malloy, Secretary James Kyle, Capt. W. R. Kenan, Capt. W. P. Oldham, Capt. T. C. James, Col. Walker Taylor, Col. F. W. Kerchner, Messrs. Wm. Calder, W. E. Worth, C. W. Worth, C. H. Robinson, H. G. Smallbones, M. J. Corbett, M. S. Willard, H. K. Nash, Sol. Bear, B. F. Hall, G. J. Boney, H. C. McQueen, Gabriel Holmes, Geo. R. French, E. P. Bailey, R. A. Parsley, P. Pearsall, M. W. Jacobi, and John Frank.

When President Chadbourn called the meeting to order Mr. W. E. Worth arose and said with much feeling: "It was with a sense of deep regret that your River and Harbor Committee learned of the order of removal of Capt. Lucas to another sphere of usefulness, and we deemed it but fitting that you should call, Mr. President, a special meeting of this Chamber to give expression to our appreciation of what he has done for us as an Engineer, and the esteem we have for him as a man. In behalf of the River and Harbor Committee, I wish to offer the following resolution:"

"WHEREAS: The Chamber of Commerce has learned, with regret, that Captain E. W. Van. C. Lucas, Corps of Engineers, has been ordered to another post, and that he will depart from Wilmington at the end of the current month, it is unanimously resolved that the thanks of this Chamber be tendered Captain Lucas for his constant personal and official courtesies, and for his faithful and devoted service in the great work which has been so skilfully projected and sustained by the Corps of Engineers; and which, with inadequate financial support from Congress, has nevertheless been largely effective in providing for an increased commerce and a much deeper class of vessels.

"A review by our River and Harbor Committee of the River and Harbor, and fortification work in the vicinity of Wilmington, N. C., under Captain Lucas' direction since March 1899, shows that, on the Cape Fear River below Wilmington, the least depth through the ten shoals between Wilmington and Southport has been increased from 18 to 20 feet at mean low water, for at least a width of 148 feet. To complete the project these dredged cuts must be widened to 270 feet. The channel across the bar has been incresed in width from 180 feet to 300 feet for a depth of 20 ft. or more mean low water. The least depth in the center of this bar channel is now 21 feet, and the depth has been maintained remarkably well for over a year past while the suction dredge has been absent from the district. Owing to the failure of the proposed River and Harbor bill of 1901, the plant had to be laid up for over a year, and there was a consequent shoaling in some of the dredged cuts, but the two dredges are now at work on the worst shoals and are rapidly restoring the entire channel to its best previous condition.

"It is to be regretted that the appropriation in the last River and Harbor bill, for lower Cape Fear river, is so small it will probably be impossible for two years to do any work toward widening the 20 foot channel beyond its present minimum of 148 feet. Further progress toward completion of the project will have to await Congressional action.

"On the river above Wilmington a radical change has been made, and the old project contemplating a low water depth of about two feet between Wilmington and Fayetteville has been superseded by a new project to obtain an eight-foot channel between Wilmington and Fayetteville all the year round. Although but $50,000 of the estimated cost of $1,850,000 has been so far appropriated for this work, Congressional sanction has been obtained for the project and its completion will depend upon the rapidity with which necessary funds are appropriated.

"At Fort Caswell the fortifications in course of construction in 1899 have been completed and added to, and there is no reasonable doubt of the ability of the fort to stop the entrance of any ship that can navigate the channel.

"Identified with our city and its people by seven years' residence and by social ties which have broadened his personal influence, this soldier and gentleman will be greatly missed by official and personal friends, and especially by our Committee on River and Harbor Improvements, with whom he has been intimately associated in this work, whose kindly wishes will follow him to his future home in Memphis.

"Resolved, further, That a copy of these resolutions, indicative of our appreciation of the work of the Engineer Corps, and of our esteem for Captain Lucas, be sent to the Chief of Engineers at Washington.

Mr. Boney moved the adoption of the resolutions, and the motion was seconded by Captain Kenan, whereupon the president asked if there were any remarks. Several spoke regretfully of the intended departure of Captain Lucas. Mr. Calder asked if there was any effort to retain Major Lucas in his present position, and if it was possible to bring anything to bear to that end. He was very sure that the Chamber and the whole community would be glad to make such an effort, and most glad if it should prove successful.

Mr. Worth replied that the committee discussed that question to some extent with Captain Lucas and finally came to the conclusion that it would be possibly best not to make that effort. He also explained that Captain Lucas had a printed order of removal, and on account of the army regulations they deemed it best, under the circumstances, not to make any attempt to do so. The orders, when once published, are very rarely changed.

Mr. H. K. Nash, of Paterson, Downing & Co., asked to express his personal appreciation of the work by Maj. Lucas here. He had much interest in the depth of water, for his company's shipments have depended upon water enough to get vessels here. Since Major Lucas came it has had an increase each year, and now any vessel needed here can come. He said that he had intended to offer a resolution that Major Lucas be kept here, but he would simply say that we all regret that he has to leave us and endorse all the Committee has said.

Mr. H. G. Smallbones, superintendent of the Clyde Steamship Co., said: "No one will regret more than I do that Maj. Lucas is to leave us. I have been associated with him both as Superintendent of the Clyde Steamship Co. and individually from the time he has been here. From the first he was always willing to furnish us with charts, blue prints, and also took the trouble to notify us of any change in the channel, which he was not compelled to do, and while I regret very much indeed that he is obliged to leave us, still he leaves the river and bar in such shape that his successor will have no trouble, except to follow up the lines he has laid out."

Mr. H. W. Malloy, president of the Navassa Guano Co. and first vice president of the Chamber, asked to specially endorse the resolutions, and say to Capt. Lucas that while we so much regret his leaving us, we trust he will retain his interest in us and that he will have a delightful home in Memphis. He also said that he further hoped that within four years the army would permit his making his home here again.

The resolution was then unanimously adopted with feeling, and President Chadbourn asked Maj. Lucas, who was present by invitation, if he would make the Chamber a short statement of what had been done during his administration and what is hoped to be accomplished in the future years. Maj. Lucas said in part:

"When I came here in 1899, the present project for the Cape Fear River, to obtain a channel twenty feet deep at mean low water and two hundred and seventy feet wide, had been adopted and was in process of execution. At that time some of the shoals had been dredged to the full extent, but the entire channel had not been cut, and it has been a pleasure to me, interested as I am in the growth of this place, to have gotten a clear twenty feet cut all the way to the sea. You now have a channel practically one hundred and fifteen feet wide and twenty feet deep at low water.

"The deterioration that has occurred on account of the failure of the proposed River and Harbor bill of 1901 has resulted in the formation of shoals which are now being removed, and in the course of the next few months the channel will be restored to its best previous condition.

"I am sorry to say that the appropriation made at the last session of Congress is not sufficiently large to enable our office to go ahead and widen the channel to its proposed maximum of two hundred and seventy feet; that will have to wait for future appropriations.

"In the gale of October, 1899, there was so much damage done to New Inlet Dam and its extension running down two miles to Smith's Island, that a good deal of money must be spent to restore it to its former condition, and it will be necessary also to restore the dyke at Snow's Marsh. In addition some measures will have to be taken to prevent any further cutting away of the beach at Bald Head; the channel there must be held in its present position. So our care must be to hold what we have, but that can be done with the present appropriation. The completion of the project depends on the appropriation in the next River and Harbor bill.

"So far as the future of this place is concerned, I am very optimistic, and always have been. I believe the harbor at Southport well adapted for exporting, and I believe the river banks between here and Southport can be utilized for ship-yards, foundries, and manufactories, and I expect to live to see such a condition of affairs, and to see a harbor extending from Wilmington to Southport. The completion of the railroad over the mountains will put this country in touch with the iron, coal and food producing country of the west and northwest, and will make Wilmington the first exporting point from the north, free of ice all the year around. With an all the year around harbor, it seems to me that when you get your own rates and don't have them quoted via Norfolk, you will be in a position to go ahead, and Wilmington will begin to realize its possibilities.

"I am sorry that I cannot stay here and help work it out, because I feel that this is my home."

Concerning a possible effort to have the order revoked, Capt. Lucas stated that this is his fifteenth order to change stations in about fifteen years, an average of about one a year. As he has spent nearly seven years in Wilmington he feels that the War Department has shown him more than reasonable consideration, especially as the order sending him here in 1899 was made with the knowledge that it would be most agreeable to him. He therefore feels that he has no right to complain.

He also referred to his keen sense of personal loss in leaving this city, which he had come to regard as a home, and expressed his appreciation of the nearly support which the Chamber of Commerce had always given him in his work.

Concerning his successor, Capt. Winslow, he stated that the Chamber would find him an efficient and able officer, in whose hands the interests of the port could be placed with all confidence. Capt. Winslow graduated first in the West Point class of 1889, and has a fine record. It will be of interest to know that he is a veteran of the Santiago campaign and was one of the first of that expedition to land on Cuban shores.

In conclusion, Capt. Lucas stated that while he was about to sever his official connection with Wilmington, his personal ties could never be broken, and that he expected to spend next Christmas here and visit the city as often hereafter as possible.

Upon conclusion of Capt. Lucas' remarks the President stated that he thought it no more than proper that the Chamber should adjourn, so that each member might have an opportunity of personally bidding farewell to Maj. Lucas, which was done.

THE CIRCUS IS COMING

TWO EXHIBITIONS MONDAY.

Street Parade Will Throng the Down-Town Districts in the Morning—Something of the Big Tented Enterprise, Features, Etc.

The circus will be here to-day and will exhibit to-morrow, with all that the announcement implies.

The small boy, and some older inhabitants, too, for that matter, will be in the hey-day of their delight and uneasy will rest on the pillow to-night the head of the average Young America whose brain will be filled with bright anticipation of the morrow—funny clowns, chattering monkeys, daring trapeze performers, peanuts, red lemonade, et ceters, et ceters. It will be a great day, and the sober-minded citizen who can devote busy Monday "strictly to business" will be an exception to the rule.

The Adam Forepaugh & Sells Bros United Shows, the largest tented enterprise in the world, will reach here over the Seaboard Air Line from Charlotte this morning—the exact time no one can tell for, circus trains, like earthquakes, are due only when they arrive. The train will move in four sections and the first to get here will be the one bringing the horses and wagons; the next will bring the canvas, poles and working crew, and the last two will bring the wild animals, the parade wagons and the Pullman containing the human people who each day entertain thousands of free American citizens. Of course the unloading of all this paraphernalia will attract big crowds to Hilton during this afternoon. The parade will take place about 10 o'clock to-morrow and will be a mile and three quarters long. There will be a hundred elaborate chariots and wagons bearing the performers and wild animals, hundreds of horses, a herd of sixteen elephants, twelve camels and a number of bands. The parade will be led by a drum and bugle corps, and an escort representing the United States soldier as he appeared in the various wars from the Revolutionary to the Spanish-American war.

At 1 and 6 o'clock the big tent will be thrown open, an hour before the performance, to give everybody a chance to see the animals. The tent has a seating capacity of 10,000 and nearly that many people will visit the show before it leaves Monday night for Florence.

To give an idea of the enormity of the shows, Farris, the baker, has contracts to furnish 600 loaves of bread daily while the show people are here.

A FATHERLESS CIRCULAR.

A circular emanating from the Lord-only-knows-where and espousing the candidacy of Mr. R. M. Wescott for the State Senate and Mr. J. M. Forshee for the Legislature, found its way on the streets yesterday. It is signed by "Executive Committee," but executive committee of what, is not stated. Votes for these gentlemen are asked because "one of the strong arguments used in support of the Amendment to the Constitution was the elimination of the colored vote" and because white men "were promised that they should be free to divide on living issues."

The circular goes on to state that these gentlemen were nominated by the independent voters of New Hanover county, but when a convention of that kind was held is not stated, unless the late meeting-of-seven on the wharf is responsible for the nominations. By voting the ticket named the eager voter is told that he will "thus give approval to the present state of prosperity throughout the land and the administration at Washington."

There will likely not be any tumbling and falling over each other on the part of New Hanover citizens on November 4th to endorse the present Republican administration in Washington. At least, that is the commen on the streets.

October Theatre Offerings.

"A Wise Woman," a bright, modern comedy, will be at the Academy Tuesday night Oct. 28. It will prove a highly entertaining performance and will be given by a capable cast. Cowan Bros. authorizes the statement that it will be the minstrel event of the season.

An Ugly Negro in Court.

Paul Sharpless, colored, was arraigned in the police court yesterday and fined $5 for disorderly conduct in pushing a little son of Policeman E. R. Chadwick off the sidewalk at Sixth and Brunswick streets last week. The charge of resisting Officer Chadwick, who made the arrest, was dismissed as it appeared Mr. Chadwick was off duty and was not wearing his uniform coat and badge at the time. The two women charged with abetting the negro in resisting were also discharged.

LEE S. OVERMAN IN LENOIR.

Concluded Eastern Canvass There Yesterday—Local Political Situation.

[Special Star Telegram.]

LAGRANGE, N. C., Oct. 18.—Lee S. Overman closed his campaign of the East here this afternoon and left to-night for Salisbury, his home, where he goes to register and to spend a day with his family. Next week Mr. Overman resumes his campaign, speaking at Reidsville Tuesday, 21st, Yanceyville, 22d, Roxboro, 23d. The speech here to-day was superb, a fitting climax to his eastern tour. It is the opinion of those who have heard him that his efforts have been fruitful of much good to the party and there is no disguising the fact that Overman has grown and is growing in favor with the people, many of whom speak of him as "our next Senator."

The county candidates also met here to-day by appointment and announced their candidacy. Mr. D. W. Wood, who but recently became Independent, took advantage of the occasion and announced himself a candidate (at a convention held in LaGrange on the 13th inst.) for the Legislature. The candidates preceding Mr. Wood, in their announcement, were each the recipient of applause as they concluded, but Mr. Wood stepped from the wagon amid absolute silence. Following this, Mr. Shade Wooten, the regular Democratic nominee, mounted the stand, and in announcing his candidacy propounded a few questions to Mr. Wood that proved quite embarrassing to that gentleman.

Mr. Wooten stated if he was elected he would support for the United States Senate the gentleman selected as indicated by the vote of the primary held in his county and pressing Wood to know if he would do the same, was told by Wood that "He would do in that matter as he had done this (naming his candidacy) do as he pleased." Pressed for reply, Wood said he expected to be elected by Democrats; that "he did not expect or want a Republican to vote for him." C. J. R.

"THE POWER TO CONSUME."

In some respects Secretary Shaw is the most picturesque member of this administration. He is original in the sense that he has views, and expresses them whether or not they are in harmony with the views of his chief, or with his associates in the cabinet While Mr. Roosevelt is assailing trusts and his Attorney General believes there are bad trusts that ought to be held down, Mr. Shaw doesn't think there are any bad trusts and talks as a defender of trusts on general principles. The President and other members of his cabinet are in favor of tariff revision, but Secretary Shaw doesn't see any necessity for that and believes that the Dingley tariff is about as perfect a piece of work of that kind as could be devised.

If it is that then there is, of course, no use in trying to improve on it, and if perchance the protection the tariff gives the trusts enables them to discriminate against American consumers in the matter of prices it would be useless to try to protect the people by reducing the tariff, for that would hurt the individual beneficiaries of the protection more than it would the trusts, which are stronger and and could stand it better, as, for instance, when commenting upon the demand to take the duty off beef cattle imported from other countries, he asks, "what good would that do?" Suppose cattle came in by the thousands from South America, Canada, or anywhere else, the Beef Trust would be on hand to compete with bidders, would force the independent butchers to pay high prices, and would thus hold control of the beef business, as it does now. Therefore, logically, there is no use in trying to bring the Beef Trust down by opening the way to competition.

He differs entirely from his party leaders in Iowa, who have declared for a reduction of duties where the duties shelter trusts, and for laws regulating the trusts, to prevent them from practicing extortion upon the people, and virtually declares that they didn't know anything about it when they drafted the platform with that plank in it. They denounced evils which did not exist and demanded remedies which would be no remedies, to remove the evils which they denounced, if the evils existed.

He made a speech in Baltimore a few days ago in which he dilated, as usual, on the blessings of the protective system on the Dingley plan. That part of his speech is thus quoted in substance:

"Our Democratic friends are ever extending sympathy to the oppressed tax-payer. They have more than once made a campaign upon the naked issue: The tariff is a tax.' They have always complained most bitterly, and sympathized with the plain, common people most liberally whenever there has been a surplus of public revenue. Again and again they have declared that there should be no more revenues collected than are necessary for the maintenance of the government, economically administered.

"I am not surprised that our friends wonder at the apparent ease with which under a protective policy revennes are provided. The secret is in the consuming capacity of the American people. Whenever the product of American laborer is protected from competition with cheaper foreign labor, the American labor consumes; and whenever the American laborer consumes, the American farmer finds a ready market for the products of his farm; and whenever the American farmer has a market, hein turn be comes a consumer, and the American manufacturer also finds a market and he in turn employs labor. And so the circuit is complete and repeated. Wages, food, raiment, markets, furnaces ablaze, savings deposited, homes builded, books purchased, peace, contentment, comfort, and happiness, all of which are embraced in the one term 'prosperity.'"

If successful government meant taxing the people enormously to pile money up in the Treasury vaults Mr. Shaw would be right and the system he lauds be a success, but what good reason can Secretary Shaw or any one else give why the people should be taxed, however lightly, to pile up in the Treasury vaults money which is not needed there? Unnecessary taxation is legalized robbery. It is more than that, for big surpluses in the Treasury encourage extravagance and plunder, and make further high taxation to meet the extravagance and plunder necessary. Of course people become accustomed to being fleeced in that way just as they do to corns and rheumatism, to which they become resigned when they find that they can't help themselves but must grin and bear it.

There is one utterance in this extract to which we fully subscribe, that is where he says "the power to consume is the secret of our prosperity." That is the secret of the prosperity of all countries, if there is any secret about it, but he couples this with an inference not warranted by the facts. He would have the people he addressed believe that it is the protective tariff which created the power to consume. We have had the protective policy with more or less protection for seventy years or more, and if protection brings prosperity and all the concominants belonging, which Secretary Shaw inumerates, then we should have had prosperity all this time.

The logical inference from this utterance is that the higher the protection the greater the power to consume, and consequently the greater the prosperity. Instead of reducing the tariff, then, as advocated by the tariff reform Republicans who have taken up the Democratic slogan of tariff reform, Secretary Shaw and those who believe with him, should urge an increase of the protective duties, in order that our prosperity might be increased.

Talk about protective tariffs creating prosperity. Eliminate the products of the farm, which receive no material protection, and where would this boasted prosperity be? Eliminate the products of the farm, which we ship to other countries, and where would our boasted commerce be? Eliminate the products of the farm and where would our manfacturing industries be? All the protective tariffs that have ever been concocted could not keep them up or bring prosperity. The farm is the basic industry, it is the one upon which the others depend for prosperity. When that flourishes all flourish; when that languishes all languish. It is the rain and the sunshine and the industry of the American farmer which create "the power to consume" and not the protective tariff.

THE COLORED CONVENTION.

The colored convention which was called to meet at Raleigh Thursday to nominate a state ticket for the negroes to vote for didn't materialize as to numbers and therefore it decided that it was best not to nominate a ticket but to issue an address to the negro voters of the State.

Only ten counties were represented, which they attributed the fact that they "had to combat the revenue doodlers in all section of the State" and to the difference of opinion among the leading negroes as to the advisability of nominating a negro ticket. Previous to the issuing of the address the following interesting epistle was read, from Gen. Clarkson, to whom President Roosevelt has assigned the job of looking after the Southern delegates to the Republican convention. The letter is addressed to Lee Person.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 13, 1902.

My Dear Mr. Person: I am glad to have your letter. I need no thanks for what I did in opposing the "jim crow party" in Alabama and other Southern States. No self-respecting Republican can tolerate any such attempted departure from the cardinal doctrine of the party. The president has no sympathy with it, and you may assure all your friends and your whole race that he is as sound on the doctrine of human rights and manhood suffrage as I am.

I shall be glad to hear from you whenever you have anything to communicate.

Sincerely yours,
JAS. S. CLARKSON.

The object of this letter was to placate the Southern negroes and keep them in line for Roosevelt in case any of them get into the next National Convention as delegates. When he says that no "self-respecting Republican can tolerate such an attempted departure," etc., he hits Senator Pritchard and others who acted with him in shutting the doors of the Greensboro Convention a pretty hard swipe. But the probabilities are that Pritchard understands that this talk is to buncoe the unsophisticated colored brothers with the belief that Roosevelt is with them and against Pritchard and the other whitewashers.

The address adopted contains the following advice as to how they should vote, if they do vote, at the coming election:

Resolved, That this convention advise each colored voter to vote as he chooses at the approaching election, not forgetting that Atwater, of Chatham, and Meekins, of Elizabeth City, were the first to advocate negro disfranchisement and need a rebuke. We especially ask our people to look well before they again attempt to put into power in this State a set of malcontents.

A Sick Liver

Can work havoc with human happiness. It can change the cheerful philanthropist into a morose misanthrope and the optimist into a pronounced pessimist. The liver has a great deal to do with the removal of the waste of the body. When it is sluggish in its action the whole body must suffer by reason of clogging accumulations.

The excretory organs in general promptly respond to the action of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It restores the liver to healthy activity, purifies the blood, and cures diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

Mr. Edward Jacobs, of Marengo, Crawford Co., Indiana, writes: "After three years of suffering with liver trouble and malaria I gave up all hopes of ever getting stout again, and the last chance was to try your medicine. I had tried all the home doctors and received but little relief. After taking three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets,' I am stout and hearty. It is due entirely to your wonderful medicines."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains: you lose. Therefore, accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery." They are easy to take, agree with the weakest constitution, and do not beget the pill habit.

PRITCHARD AND THE DESERTERS.

In his speeches when speaking of his success in getting the deserters' pension bill through Congress, Senator Pritchard tries to make it appear that this bill had the approval of Senator Simmons and a number of other Democratic Senators. Senator Simmons has denied this in a published statement, to which, however, we have never seen any reference by Senator Pritchard. Senator Simmons also took the trouble to write to other Democratic Senators who were said to favor Pritchard's bill and seven of them have declared their opposition to it. One of them says: "In the matter of Federal pensions Southern Senators have generally not interfered, but left the matter entirely to the Northern Senators, feeling that any interference on their part would be misconstrued and their motives attacked if not used to inflame the North." This is the reason, as is well known, why not only Southern Senators, but Southern Representatives, have had so little to say upon the pension question.

Thos. S. Rollins, of Marshall, N. C., has sent notices to all the postmasters in Western North Carolina asking for a list of the names of all old soldiers who have been refused pensions on account of having served in the Confederate army. He also asks all those who deserted the Confederates and went over to the enemy to write to him and he will secure United States pensions for them through the agency of Senator Pritchard's bill. So that six million dollars Senator Pritchard is bringing into the State will have to pay tribute in Marshall! The notices are posted in many postoffices.

Marshall is Senator Pritchard's home town, and we are under the impression that Mr. Rollins is Senator Pritchard's law partner, although we are not sure of that. Is Senator Pritchard getting ready to go into the business of pension attorney when he is bounced from the Senate?

One of the charges against Tom Johnson of Cleveland, Ohio, is that he had a steel mill assessed at $300,000 and sold it for $7.000000. Well, did they expect him to refuse an offer like that? This shows that when it comes to trading Tom is no slouch.

THE SECRET OF THE LORD.

God sometimes shuts the door, and shuts us in
That He may speak, perchance thro' grief or pain,
And softly, heart to heart, above the din,
May tell some precious thought to us again.

God sometimes shuts the door, and keeps us still,
That so our feverish haste, our deep unrest,
Be eath his gentle touch may quiet, till
He whispers what our weary hearts love best.

God sometimes shuts the door, and tho' shut in,
If 'tis His hand, shall we not wait and see?
If worry lies without, and toil, and sin,
God's Word may wait within for you and me.

COTTON MARKETS

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The cotton market opened steady, with prices two to five points lower in response to poor cables from the English market, where futures were net some two points lower. Moreover the weather chart reported generally fair conditions with no rain. The receipts were smaller by nearly 25,000 bales than for the same day a year ago, and the estimates for this week's in sight were for 475,000 bales as compared with 568,496 bales same week last year. The further reports from Fall River told of cleaned up stocks of print cloths with a firm undertone at three cents bid for regulars. Southern spot markets were fairly active and steady. In the local market prices rallied several points immediately after the call on room covering and light outside buyers for a general improvement during the coming week. But vigorous speculative support failed to materialize and toward the close of the first hour, opening bids were again in force with tone barely steady. Private telegrams from the central and eastern portions of the belt reported unsettled weather and predicted a steady shrinkage in the crop movement from now on. Texas, too, reported a disposition of receipts to fall off. Wall street appeared to be trying to lighten its load of January and to cover March shorts preparatory to a withdrawal from the market for a fresh look at the situation.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Cotton quiet at 8.70c; net receipts 33 bales; gross receipts 3,793 bales; stock 40,110 bales.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Raleigh News and Observer: The negro Republican convention of the Second Congressional district met Thursday at Weldon and nominated Sam Vick, postmaster at Wilson, for Congress. H. F. Cheatham and Geo. H. White made strong speeches against the "Independent" movement in the State, which they said had a tendency to crush their race. They did not speak of Pritchard in very complimentary terms.

— Newbern Journal: Dr. F. W. Hughes and Dr. R. S. Primrose went to Kinston seeking information from the health authorities there as to the reason of that place quarantining against Newbern. In connection with this visit the local health board held a meeting last evening, when a statement of the Newbern smallpox status was given. This report was mailed last night to the Kinston health authorities. There was no suspected case here yesterday, some thought to be suspects proving upon doctor's examination to be no smallpox.

—Greensboro Telegram: The North Carolina expert granite quarry opener, Mr. C. C. Wyatt, is now at work blasting open the largest quarry in North Carolina near York Institute (in Alexander county). When the piece is broken loose it will be forty feet high, 300 feet wide and about 400 feet long. All in one solid block. It will be worked up into monuments. Mr. Wyatt opened up the Bristol, Tenn., Marble Company's quarry. He has discovered a process known only to himself which he will have patented later.

— Chatham Record: We regret to announce the death of our venerable county-man, Rev. John W. Hatch. He died very suddenly at his home, about three miles from this place, on last Thursday afternoon, in the eighty-fourth year of his age. He had been in his usual health, and, as was his custom every afternoon, he went to his room on last Thursday to lie down awhile. When supper was ready he did not appear, and he was found dead on his bed, lying as if he was sweetly sleeping. —— An old colored man in New Hope township, named Willis Byrd, has registered as a voted because he was voter before 1835, when free negroes were disfranchised. We doubt if there is another such voter in the State. He will be ninety years old in December and is respected by all his white neighbors.

— Sanford Express: It now looks as if very few negroes will be able to vote in Moore county this year. Many of them have attempted to register and failed. In some precinct not a single negro has registered. We understand that some of the white Republicans are "bushwhacking" among them and urging them to go and demand that they may be permitted to register. — Messrs. S. P. Himball and W. F. Edwards, of Lemon Springs, were in town Mouday and left for Richmond, Va., to sell their crop of tobacco. Their tobacco crop was good this year and they expect to get good prices for it. Other farmers in this county and section raised more tobacco this year than they have in several years past. — Salisbury Sun: The assay office at the Union Copper Mine was burned to the ground Wednesday night, a 'phone message to the Sun states. It is not known how the fire originated. The loss cannot be ascertained, although it is known that all the effects in the building were destroyed.

CURRENT COMMENT

—— The Republican spell-binders were beginning to jump onto the coal trust in the most savage manner. It is hard to realize that it has been but a short time since the Republican leaders denied the existence of trusts.—Washington Post Ind.

—— It is notable that none of the Republican orators talk in favor of a ship subsidy bill. There is evidently a desire on the part of the Republican managers to have the scheme forgotten. If the Republicans should gain control of the next House, however, there will be no reticence shown.—Brooklyn Citizen, Dem.

—— Reports from the coal regions are to the effect that one-half the producing capacity of the anthracite mines could be in operation three days after an order came to start work. It is stated that seven hundred thousand tons a week could be produced, exclusive of one hundred and fifty thousand tons from washeries. The normal output for this time of year is two hundred thousand tons a week. But as there has been a deficit of twenty million tons in the production it will take a good while to catch up.—Philadelphia Press, Rep.

—— It is not the trusts per se to which objection is made, so much as it is to the advantages the trusts get from the sheltering tariff. The British care nothing for trusts, because they have all continental Europe's industries to act as regulators of prices. Belgium, France, Germany, Austria, these are all within a week of English ports, some of them within a day. An English trust tries the game of extortion at its peril, for it meets foreign competition instanter on equal terms. Make the American tariff fair to the consumers and the trusts, most of them, go hang—or, they may stay and prosper, if they can. The mere bigness of a combination is not what signifies, but the giving of the big fellow all sorts of underholds on the little and weak fellow—Chattanooga Times, Ind.

A WRONG WHICH NEEDS RIGHTING.

The work of the tax ferrets all over the country has called attention more than ever before to the system of double taxation which is put in operation where a man sells real estate for a small or partial payment down, taking the notes of the buyer secured by mortgage on the property sold for the balance. The real estate is taxed, and then the securities are taxed, the law working on the theory that when a man worth perhaps $10,000 all told buys a ten thousand dollar farm he has by virtue of the simple act of buying such real estate and giving his notes in payment therefor been able to create a tangible asset of $9,000 where not a dollar existed before he signed the notes. If this be simple justice, then should every man's ability to create such fictitious credit, whether he uses it or not, be taxed. Until this wrong is righted the moral sense of the taxpayers will never be awakened to the point of making a full return of this class of property.

WHAT THE AGE NEEDS.

The law of supply and demand gets in its work on all the professions, as hundreds of nice young fellows who have been educated for the law, the ministry, teaching and medicine at an expense of $1,500 or $2,000 find out as soon as they graduate. They find that they have stuff to sell on an already glutted market and that only a few of them—really a very few—can make place, position and a good living. There is a great waste right here. The world is clamoring for men in a hundred departments of business, but not this sort. It is a practical and constructive age, and it is the men who can do things who are wanted—men who can open mines, assay ore, build bridges and great buildings, buy, judge and handle stock, raise big crops at the smallest cost, economically utilize the labor of other men, handle complex machinery, originate new methods—rather than those who know of and have to do with the past as expounders of ancient theory or explorers in metaphysical mysteries. Call it a bread and butter age if you will, the fact remains that the essential spirit of modern progress deals almost wholly with the future and not the past. Leave the past with the monks, the ritualists and the dust of cathedral sepulchers and blaze out a new road, young man.

SUNDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 19.

THE MINERS' CONVENTION

Considerable Opposition to Acceptance of Arbitration Plan, But Little Doubt of Its Acceptance.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 18.—What is probably the last full week of the anthracite coal strike closed to-day without anything developing to change the peaceful trend of events. It was a quiet day at headquarters and a busy one at district and sub-district headquarters throughout the entire coal fields on account of the election of delegates to Monday's convention. All the "locals" have met and selected their representatives to the Wilkesbarre gathering. There seems to be little doubt but that the convention will accept the offer of arbitration. Reports have been received here, coming principally from the region around Scranton, that there will be considerable opposition to the acceptance of the plan, but these reports are not taken seriously at President Mitchell's headquarters. There will be opposition in the convention, but it is expected to disappear after Mr. Mitchell explains the proposition to the delegates. Many of the miners want the convention to withhold acceptance of the arbitration plan until the union is assured that the strikers will be re-employed in their former places. This will likely cause a long debate, but the officials of the union say the matter will be fixed up satisfactorily to all concerned.

SCRANTON, PA., October 18.—The last of the meetings of the locals of the United Mine Workers to elect delegates to the convention to be held Monday were held to-night. Careful inquiry shows that there was a practically unanimous vote in favor of accepting the proposition.

WEEK OF POPULAR REPERTOIRE.

Company Comes from Florence to Begin Engagement Monday Night

This week will be a popular one at the Academy as the offering will be the first repertorie attraction of the season, the Grahame Goodwin Comedy Company. Of course, during the entire engagement popular prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents, will prevail, and tomorrow night every lady accompanied by the holder of a 30 cen's ticket will be admitted free. These tickets can be purchased and reserved at Plummer's.

The opening play will be the beautiful drama, "In Indiana," which will be interspersed with splendid specialties. Of the play Friday's Florence Times says:

"In Indiana," a popular comedy was cleverly presented at the Auditorium last night by the Graham Goodwin Comedy Company. The play consisted of four acts, each of which was rendered with splendid effect. The specialties were good and very much appreciated by the audience. Baby Edna, a cute little Miss of about five summers, performed her parts in an admirable manner and was frequently encored. Ferdinand Graham who played the part of Tom Lowder, is an accomplished comedian, and always makes a good hit. As a money shark, Jack Goodwin, in the role of Mark Banks, acquitted himself in a highly creditable manner. Flora Nelson, as Ruth Parker, and Lillian Dean, as Flossie Jerome, also won the plaudits of the audience.

The play was clean and devoid of objectionable features.

GREAT DRAMA OF BRITISH POLITICS.

STRANGE AND MOST EXCITING

John O'Donnell's Impassioned Speech. The Character of the Man—The Persecutions He Has Undergone—What It Portends

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—T. P. O'Connor, M. P., has written for the Associated Press his impressions of the scene caused by the Irish members in the House of Commons Thursday, and what he believes it portends, as follows:

"I have seen many strange and exciting scenes in the House of Commons, but that of Thursday was the most strange and most exciting. It deserves serious notice as a symptom of and clue to the present political character therein, is not the kind of man one would expect to see figure in such a scene.

"To see this ordinarily quiet young man addressing the whole House for a quarter of an hour amid a din which was tempestuous, and in violation of every rule of order, with the Speaker, ministers and all shouting, and the majority helpless, and then afterwards to see him cross the floor of the House and standing in front of the prime minister, who sat pallid with a sickly smile on his face—to see this, was one of the most curious proofs of how honest passion and indignation created by oppression, can cow even the most powerful of tyrannies. Of all the points of that terrible scene—for it was terrible—the most remarkable was the absolute helplessness, the cowed inaction of the Unionist majority, so divided and harrassed by the sense of the irresistible doom coming hourly upon their leaders that they cannot conceal their depression and are made impotent by panic. And there was the other reason that the spectre of Ireland which was supposed to be laid, had risen again, more menacing than ever. And, finally, there was perhaps some sense of shame at the feeling that this man, who was calling for the right to be heard in the House of Commons, had been gagged in Ireland by systematic persecution worthy of Russia at her worst. He has spent eighteen months in jail during the last three or four years and has been dragged from platforms by the police before he opened his lips, and he was recently subjected to a sentence which is an example of deliberate ferocity, his last sentence of six months, October 14th, having been so given by the magistrate that O'Donnell has to spend six weeks on a plank bed and nine days on bread and water. All this suffering of the past and to come, was written in legible letters on the pale face and in the excited eyes of this ordinarily quiet gentleman. This, perhaps, was why the ministerialists sat cowed, helpless and abashed at the scene, one of the signs of some great coming change.

"It is impossible to foretell what it will be, but for a good reason Irish men hope it may take the shape of a startling, gigantic surrender. One of the most important portents is the eagerness of nine out of ten of the landlords to attend a conference with the Irish leaders. The movement is only kept from triumph by the fact that the leaders of the landlords are wealthy, with estates in England, and are, besides, politicians first and landlords afterwards. Every thinking man, whether landlord or tenant, believes that two or three years purchase and a small grant from the Imperial Exchequer are all that is now standing between Ireland and a final settlement of the land question, and the reconquest of the land by the Celts from the English garrison. Among those who think that a gigantic surrender is inevitable at an early day is, I have reason to believe, the Irish Chief Secretary, Mr. Wyndham himself.

He urged the landlords to consent to a conference, even travelling long distances to their homes in order to put personal pressure on them. He has already announced that there will be a bigger land bill next year, and I have heard he has said privately that coercion might be over in three weeks in case of certain events, whereby I understood he meant to end it if the landlords and tenants agree on a common basis of settlement. In the meantime pressure on the government is coming from various quarters. It is doubful if the government can carry the Education bill without violent closure, which may lead to scenes inside the House by the English nonconformists very like those caused by O'Donnell, so vehement is party passion; and outside it may produce outbursts in England, also on the Irish pattern. The attempt to force the Irish members into the ministerial lobby on the Education bill died on the first night of the session, when Mr. Balfour insulted Ireland by refusing to give her a day to voice her wrongs.

"To sum up, the Irish members feel that they have scored. Nobody has a good word to say for the maladroit antics of Mr. Balfour. The government is threatened from many quarters and is divided, and is, I believe, doomed, while Ireland has once more rushed into the foremost place in the great drama of British politics."

DAVID B. HILL.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Speaking here to-night, former Senator David B. Hill, referring to the coal strike situation and to the plank in the Democratic State platform favoring government ownership of the coal mines said:

"I am not here to take back one word of this coal plank, but I am here to stand by it, and I do stand by it, because it is the only way of settling this question permanently. I am not here to say when it will be necessary or best for the government to so act, but I am here to stand by this plank."

More Than Fifteen Hundred Delegates in Attendance—Action on Proposed Amendments to Constitution.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PORTLAND, ME., Oct. 20.—More than fifteen hundred delegates are now attending the National Women's Christian Temperance Union Convention here. They represent every State and Territory in the Union. The proposed amendments to the constitution, to add to the delegates the vice president at large of each State and to admit to the executive committee the evangelists, were indefinitely postponed. An amendment to the pledge, adding the words "and tobacco in any form," following the words "wine, beer and cider," was referred to the executive committee.

Mrs. Hannah G. Bailey, of Winthrop, Me., reported for the department of peace and international arbitration, of which she is superintendent.

The principal speaker was Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, honorary president of the union.

Lady Henry Somerset, Dr. Sanders and Miss Cameron of London, England, took the opportunity to-day to inspect the county "rum mill," as the storage room for the liquors seized by the sheriff is known. Sheriff Dunn exhibited various devices used in illegal traffic and then emptied a barrel of beer into the gutter, to show how seized liquors were disposed of.

Lady Somerset, when shown a case of sealed stock ale, manufactured in England, took a bottle, broke the neck with a hammer and turned the contents upon the ground. She said that the head of the firm making the ale was personally known to her.

THE NAVY DEPARTMENT.

Differences of Opinion on the Board of Construction as to Design for the Armored Cruisers.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

WASHINGTON, October 18.—The board of construction of the Navy Department has reached what may be regarded as a critical point in the development of the American navy. For many days past the board has been struggling with the grave problem presented by the necessity of so designing the armored cruisers authorized by the last Congress as to combine the greatest offensive and defensive qualities with the highest speed. The ordnance department wished to clad the vessels in the heaviest armor and place on them the biggest guns, while the engineers wished to give a high speed. These differences of opinion have become much more pronounced than ever before and there have been some very lively scenes in the board meetings recently. Gradually the issues have been sifted down and adjusted tentatively, save the very important one of weight to be allowed for motive power, which means speed.

Engineer-in-chief Melville insists that the new cruisers should not take the wash of anything afloat. He demandedtha ttheyb able to overdertake if need be and escape from any battleship or cruiser of any other navy, holding that the reserve speed, as in the case of the Oregon at Santiago, might often turn the course of battle.

It is possible that Secretary Moody will be called upon to decide the issue as to whether speed shall be sacrificed to power and size limitation.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS.

Yesterday Afternoon at Several Places in Georgia and Tennessee.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., Oct. 18.—A distinct earthquake shock, accompanied by a muddled rumbling like distant thunder, was felt here this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The shock was of several seconds duration and shook houses perceptibly in the city and suburbs. Dishes and windows were rattled and many people rushed from their homes in fright.

At LaFayette, Ga., large vases were thrown violently from the mantel in one residence. On the streets the shock was felt, the earth seeming to upheave under the feet of the pedestrians. Reports of shocks at the same time have been received from Trion, Ga.; Sewanee, Tenn., Mont Eagle, Tenn., Tracey City, Tenn., and other towns in Tennessee and Georgia.

MURDERED HIS FATHER

Charge Brought Against a Prominent Merchant of Scott County, Va.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MIDDLESBORO, KY., October 18—John Wilmore, a prominent merchant in Scott county, Va., has been arrested on a charge of having murdered his father several years ago. The elder Wilmore disappeared and the son said his father had gone to Mexico, and later he told of his death in that country. The elder Wilmore, previous to his disappearance, willed all his property to his son, who was to come into possession of the father's estate at the old man's death. The father's bones were found under John Wilmore's store last week.

BIG FIRE IN THE CITY OF ALBANY.

Many Thrilling Escapes from Death and One Fireman Was Killed.

IN THE BUSINESS DISTRICT.

A Dance Was in Progress on the Top Floor of the Burning Building—Several Women Were Burned, But All Were Rescued.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 18.—The most destructive fire that has visited Albany in a number of years broke out shortly before 11 o'clock to-night in the Tower and Brooks Company's Boston store, one of the largest dry goods stores in the heart of the business district. For a time the entire dry goods section was threatened, and only by the most heroic efforts on the part of the firemen were the flames practically confined to the building in which they started. There were many thrilling escapes from death and one fireman was killed and a number were injured. Thomas Ward, pipeman of Engine Company No. 1, slipped from the top of a ladder and fell thirty feet, breaking his neck.

At the time the fire broke out a dance was in progress in a hall on the top floor of the burning building. Escape to the street was cut off by the fast spreading flames and twenty-five young men and women were lifted out of the front windows and helped over adjoining roofs. The shrieks of hysterical women created much excitement, but cool headed firemen and spectators soon carried them to a place of safety. Several women were burned, but none were seriously hurt.

The structure was once the residence of former Governor William L. Marcy, and was one of the historical spots in Albany.

It was two hours before the flames were [pronounced under control. It is impossible to secure any of the losses to night.

Fire at Nazareth, Pa,

EASTON, PA., Oct. 18.—The hosiery mills of Henry Kraemer and the residence of John Unangst, at Nazareth, near here, were destroyed by fire to-night. Several other houses were slightly damaged. The loss will amount to $100,000.

THE WAR IN VENEZUELA.

Revolutionists Defeated After Seven Days Terrible Fighting--Killed and Wounded Numbered Seven Thousand.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LAVICTORIA, VENEZUELA, Oct. 18.—A messenger has arrived here from the scene of the engagement near this place between the government troops and revolutionists, bringing news that after seven days terrible fighting, nine thousand rebels under General Mendoza had abandoned the field, having retired from their last position, six miles from LaVictoria Friday night, retreating in the direction of Villa de Cura. According to President Castro the killed and wounded numbered three thousand.

During the last days of the fighting the temperature rose to 116 degrees, and a visitor to the scene of the engagement declares that he never saw such a terrible spectacle as was presented by the battlefield.

The victory of the government troops, which is said to be due to the personal courage of President Castro, who, twice with a Mauser rifle in hand, charged at the head of his soldiers, is considered a serious set-back for the cause of the revolutionists.

A courier from Valentia, who arrived here to-day reports that up to yesterday that town was not in the hands of the revolutionists.
